FINDS BANK NOTE FOR $4850 IN CAR

M. Fralich, Assistant Cashier of New Palestine Bank, Lost Valuable Paper.

COUNTED THE MONEY ON WAY

Conductor E. O. Arbuckle Discovered it on Floor and Later Handed it to Owner.

M. Fralich, assistant cashier of the New Palestine bank lost a note for $4850 yesterday on an I. & C. traction car, which was later found by Conductor E. O. Arbuckle and returned to the owner.

The New Palestine bank keeps some of its funds in an Indianapolis band and the young man had gone there and drawn the money to take it back to New Palestine and to attend a meeting of the directors. He came back to New Palestine and appeared before the directors with a note of $4850 missing. They called up the Indianapolis bank and learned that they had given Fralich the note. By this time the bank was in a turmoil and the assistant cashier was almost frantic.

He was starting back to Indianapolis when the telephone rang. It was Arbuckle in Connorsville. He had found the note on the car which happened to be the one on which Fralich came from Indianapolis. This reminded Fralich that he had counted the money on the car and in this manner dropped it in the car.

Mr. Fralich came to this city and met Arbuckle, who turned the note over to him. It is a significant fact that the man who signed the note is now dead and money could easily be gotten for the note. Much praise is due Mr. Arbuckle for the position he took in the affair as so large a sum of money is not often found and returned so readily.

ARE THEY MARRIED IS THE QUESTION

Letter Received by the Girls Employed at Windsor Hotel Indicate That They Are.

MISS EVA WOLFE IS BRIDE

The girls employed at the Windsor Hotel are inclined to believe that Miss Eva Wolfe, formerly employed there, is married.

The story dates back several weeks ago when George Tucker, who formerly operated the machine at the Vaudet theater in the city left for Huntington to accept a similar position in one of the Don Rogers theaters. Shortly after Tucker left, Miss Wolfe followed him, telling the girls that she was going there for a visit. They received a letter a few days ago requesting that they send her clothes to Huntington and signed the letter, Mrs. George Tucker.

While in this city Tucker went with Miss Wolfe and it was rumored once before that they were married, but this time it seems to be true.

JESSE PUGH IS PRONOUNCED HIT

Makes Unqualified Success in Entertainment at Bedford With Supporting Company From Bureau.

G. C. BOSLEY HEARS CONCERT

Writes That Local Artist Will Soon or Later Bring Honor to Home City.

So far few reports have been heard of Jesse Pugh who is making his initial attempt on the Lyceum platform. Many local people who have heard him in home-talent concerts and all have predicted for him unprecedented success on the entertaining stage. The first report of his unqualified triumph comes from Bedford where he gave a complete program recently. He is employed by the Redpath-Slayton Bureau out of Chicago and has a supporting company of two, Miss Lathrop, soprano and pianist, and Miss Kellogg, violinist and pianist.

George C. Bosley, formerly of this city, who is a warm friend of Jesse Pugh, now lives in Bedford and was present at the concert there. He writes that the entertainment was without a precedent so far as a delighted audience was concerned. Mr. Bosley declares that the manager of the bureau with whom Mr. Pugh is connected, has reported that this entertainment was the best and most satisfactory in every way of any given this year or in any previous year. Mr. Bosley says that he believes honor is due to his fellow townsman and he believes that he will some day bring renown to his home city. The clipping from the Bedford Democrat, sent by Mr. Bosley, is as follows:

While the weather was somewhat against the entertainment at the Stone City opera house last night, the third number on the Bedford entertainment course, there was a fair sized audience to hear the Jesse Pugh company of entertainers and those who were present felt amply repaid for venturing out on the disagreeable night.

The entertainment included Mr. Pugh, vocalist and reader; Miss Lathrop, soprano and pianist, and Miss Kellogg, violinist and pianist, each of whom is an artist in his line. Bedford people have heard many elocutionists and dramatic readers, but none of them is superior to Mr. Pugh. Miss Lathrop has a voice that is really musical and when she sang "Voci di Primavera" one could almost get the scent of springtime and see the flowers in bloom, as one could almost imagine himself listening to the mocking bird in a country home in the south while Miss Kellogg was rendering "My Old Kentucky Home" on the violin.

SANTA FUND IS A WORTHY CAUSE

Persons Seeing Its Benefits Last Year Were Favorably Impressed by Good Accomplished.

DONATIONS SHOULD BE EARLY

Little Girl Sends 20 Cents and Hopes That it Will do Some Good.

Previously Received$32.50
Frances Belle Trennepohl25
William Alfred Caldwell25
May Irene Abernathy20
Dorothy Mulno50
Earl and Margaret Webb25
Total$33.95

The Daily Republican Santa Claus fund, which opened so auspiciously, did not move up with the accustomed spurt today that has been characteristic since its beginning this year. Too much emphasis can not be placed on the early giving as it is necessary to get the funds in early so the managers will be able to determine what and how much to buy for the poor little children of Rushville. People who expect to give the fund a boost by lending their influence to the cause are earnestly requested not to delay their donation another day.

Any person who traveled on the Daily Republican Santa Claus wagon last Christmas day, when the gifts were distributed; who saw the anxious faces pressed to the windows as the wagon drew up; saw the haggard, wistful eyes, expressing fear that Santa would not stop; saw the sudden change of expression when the bundles were being unloaded; anyone who saw all of that would be impressed and convinced that the Santa Claus fund is a worthy cause. There are many people in Rushville, who can assist the fund materially and make it a success and it is to be hoped that they will enter into the spirit of the enterprise with zeal.

The little children, whose parents are prosperous, can well afford to spare some of their savings for their less fortunate friends. Many little children have already given this year, but not as many as last year. The children of the county donated freely to the fund last year and it is expected that many more of them will assist the cause.

The Rushville Art Brass company will have their piece of hammered brass work completed by the end of this week and it will be put on display in one of the downtown store windows to be sold to the highest bidder, the proceeds to go to the Santa Claus fund. The piece will be a complete writing desk set, worked out in an artistic Florentine design. There will be eight pieces in the set.

One little girl made a donation to the fund today and wrote as follows:

Dear Santa you will find enclosed twenty cents for which I hope will help to make some little girl Happy. Dear Santa all I ask for will be a little Sewing machine to make my Doll some new dress. With love
MAY IRENE ABERNATHY.

BIG WHEAT CROP DUE NEXT SPRING

Rush County Will Raise Record Yield This Winter so Say Elevator Men.

CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE

Contrary to Condition One Year Ago Winter Wheat is Cheaper Than Spring.

That the biggest crop of the winter wheat ever raised in Rush county will be gathered by the farmers of the county next spring is the prophecy made by local grain dealers.

The prediction is based on the fact that farmers generally over the county are sowing much more wheat this winter than for a long period of preceding years. One local dealer says that farmers of the county are sowing twice as much wheat this winter as has been sown in the county for any year for a long time past, and that, harring damage to the crop by unfavorable weather, the coming season's crop is sure to be far larger than the crop in the country has been for many years.

Contrary to the conditions one year ago, the winter wheat which is being received in Rush county markets this year is selling for a lower price than the spring wheat. A year ago the winter wheat was bringing the higher price of the two. This year winter wheat is twenty cents on the bushel cheaper than it was last year.

As a result of the cheapness in price of wheat the farmers are not the most anxious in the world to dispose of a great deal of the grain. Local millers say that although there is a great deal of wheat in the country, not very much is being brought into market at this time. It is selling for only ninety cents a bushel, and this price does not satisfy farmers. "Dollar wheat" is the idea they have in mind and with this idea they are holding the grain back in anticipation of a raise in price. They do not care to sell it for less than one dollar a bushel.

The cause of the reversal of the comparative prices of winter and spring wheat this year over those of last is caused in great measure by the amount of the grain raised in the great wheat-growing districts in Minnesota and the Dakotas, it is stated. The winter wheat crops in those districts this year were very heavy, considerably heavier than the crops of this section of the country, and this resulted in the cheapening of Indiana wheat. Last year, however, the more winter wheat was raised in Indiana than in the northwestern districts, and as this resulted in a greater demand for the wheat grown in this state, the price was considerably above that of this year.

The wetness and consequent lateness of the corn was caused by the late rains of August and especially of September. To have insured the best corn crop, the rains should have come in July. As it was the rains came down when the corn was not in a condition for them, and now it is green and wet. It eventually will dry out, however, and unless too much of it is allowed to rot in the cribs the crop will be fairly good, although late.

How Resourceful People May Make Christmas Gifts

Christmas shopping is an easy enough matter for possessor of plenty of money, but for the most of us Christmas time shows a great disparity between the size of our pocketbook and that of our heart—the latter is so much bigger. The world is full of pretty things, waiting to be bought by those with money enough. There is consolation in the fact that the gift which costs time and thought, and is a little tax on the resources of the giver, means more to the recipient than any other.

We are eager to remember our own dear people and some of our friends. Now the question is, how much can we spend and how shall we spend it, to include them all?

We will start out with mother; she should come first. A search through the shops shows a lot of pretty gifts that may be bought for little money and a greater number that may be made at home at a saving. She will appreciate our circumstances. Some good things may be found at the ten cent stores even, and they are the stronghold of the little folks who want to make a dollar go a long way. Mother will like the pretty waste paper basket shown in the picture, of white moire paper with delicate roses on it. Here may be found good looking candlesticks of clear glass, which are as pretty as those that cost three times as much.

Lacquer boxes, from Japan, are cheap and artistic, and very durable. Such boxes for gloves and handkerchiefs range in price from twenty-five cents to a dollar or so and are to be found in department stores.

Selecting a present that may be made at home is easy because the outlay of money is usually small and the finished article a success. There are pin cushions and bags of flowered ribbon such as are shown in the picture. Pretty little muslin aprons and hand-made laces, made of Renaissance braid and simple stitches. Towels with large initial embroidered in the corner never fail to delight either mother or grandmother. Combing jackets, like that shown in the picture, are made of squares of figured cotton or silk or of large handkerchiefs. They cost almost nothing, since one may make them of a remnant a yard square or of four cheap cotton handkerchiefs (with pretty figures) and two yards of narrow satin ribbon. These handkerchiefs are used for short kimonos, laundry bags, sofa pillow covers, and smaller embroidered handkerchiefs for pin cushions. Bed slippers, made of eider down flannel, make an acceptable present for an old person. They are prettily finished with fancy stitches and ribbon and cost next to nothing.

Getting a present for father or grandfather taxes the thought; men's wants seem to be so few compared to those of women.

Handkerchiefs, ties and slippers are among those that cost little and are acceptable. Bill purses, for the safe carrying of money, cost from 25 cents to two or more dollars. A good plain fountain pen gives a man continual satisfaction, and other articles for convenient writing he likes. There are portfolios with paper and blotters and other articles. Desk fittings, and especially those made of Japanese antimony, are tasteful and a great convenience.

Among the things that may be made at home, the list for men is not long. House jackets and slippers are dear to the heart of the man who wants to be comfortable. Bath robes are not difficult to make and a great comfort. Bed slippers, for the old, are a luxury they enjoy. Young men like ties, stick pins and handkerchiefs, books and kodaks.

It is easy sailing when we start out to buy a present for grown-up or nearly grown sister. She will like all the pretty things for her dressing case, the candles, pin cushions, and a lot of little foolish things besides. Sterling silver shoe buttoners and shoe spoons are to be had for a quarter. Buffers, hair files, tooth brushes with silver handles, appeal to the taste for luxury which girls possess. She can never have too many dainty handkerchiefs and neckpieces, or too many gay ribbons for her hair or lingerie. All these can be found at an expense ranging from twenty-five cents up to two or more dollars.

Young girls like ornamental picture frames, pretty jewel cases, puff boxes and hat pin holders. These are shown in tasteful designs for fifty cents each.

All girls love perfumery and sachets. They like calendars with pretty verses, to hang in their rooms, and chain or mesh purses delight them. These may be bought for fifty cents to fifty dollars each. Fans are shown in a like variety.

If you prefer to make a present at home nothing is more likely to delight a girl than a bedroom set for her bed, windows and dressing case. These sets consist of spread with flounce, curtains, pillow shams and cover for dressing case. Muslin and easement cloths are used for making them and cost from five to fifteen cents a yard.

Fancy bands for the hair, made of ribbon or tulle, especially if brightened with spangles, are acceptable to the girlish heart. The floating veil of chiffon and the soft scarf for the head and shoulders will make her eyes sparkle with pleasure. One has only to buy 2½ or 3 yards of material and hem it, for these. Silk muslin makes lovely scarfs and may be had from thirty cents to a dollar a yard. A scarf of this fabric is shown in the picture.

Big brothers will like the same things father does and besides he will like picture of sports, baseball and football subjects. College flags for his room, sofa pillows, pipes and pipe racks appeal to him. He will flourish silk hosiery with great satisfaction and if one may spend a sufficient sum he likes a good suit case or the fittings for one for traveling.

The younger boys and girls rarely leave us uninformed as to what they want. The girls want dolls and miniature housekeeping things. Small sets of furs please them. Hoods,

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obdurate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

POET USES GUN ON HATED RIVAL

Sensational Incident in Mexican House of Deputies.

MIRON ATTACKS CHAHITAL

Well Known Poet, a Member From Puebla, Shoots Deputy Chahital, Also Well Known Throughout Mexico, As the Two Were Entering the Chamber of Deputies—Incident Created Great Excitement.

City of Mexico, Dec. 8.—Deputy Salvador Diaz Miron of Puebla, noted throughout Mexico as a poet, shot twice and slightly wounded in the temple Deputy Juan Chahital of Oaxaca, when entering the house of deputies yesterday. Hot words occurred between the two men before the shooting. It is said there was a long-standing feud between them. Chahital grappled with his assailant, preventing him from shooting again. Friends then intervened. The police were immediately notified, but no arrests were made, as deputies are exempt while serving. It is expected that Miron will be expelled by the chamber and that he will then be arrested. The affair caused great excitement in the city. The chamber of deputies immediately adjourned.

Enrique Creel, minister of foreign affairs, has been given leave of absence to go to Chihuahua. It is said he is going to look after his private interests and give assistance to the government troops against the rebels. During his absence Sub-Secretary Salado Alvarez will have charge of the foreign department. It is understood here that if the revolutionists gain further successes in the north they will have a chance of being recognized as belligerents by the Washington government. Senor Creel will, it is said, take action to prevent this.

Vice President Ramon Corral has returned to Tehuacan on account of his health. It is not known how long he will remain there. It is thought that a battle is now going on at Guerrero, which town has been strongly fortified by the rebels. It is expected that if the government troops attack the place there will be a bloody battle, as the rebels are prepared to make their first strong stand there.

Drawing the Troops On.
El Paso, Tex., Dec. 8.—News from the insurrection infected region of Chihuahua, Mexico, is that the insurgents are falling back into the mountains as the regular troops advance, in the hope of drawing the troops into the rough country before fighting.

Many Newspapers Suppressed.
Mexico City, Dec. 8.—Anti-Diaz newspapers are being suppressed by the government all over the country on the ground that they are advocating sedition on the part of the people and are fomenting disorder.

A MEDICAL TRUST

Logansport Doctor Says There Is One in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 8.—When Charles D. Pettigrew of Logansport appeared to show cause why his license should not be revoked, the old antagonism between the advertising and nonadvertising physicians held the attention of the state board of medical examination and registration. The charge against Pettigrew, filed and backed up by members of the Cass County Medical society, was that in published advertisements he had made assertions which were "false, misleading, obscene, licentious and immoral." Pettigrew, in advertisements published in Logansport, referred pointedly to the "medical trust," as he termed it, in Cass county, and when on the witness stand before the board, reiterated his statements and declared that there was such a "trust" in Indiana, and particularly in Logansport, where, the physician said, the other physicians had united against him to injure his business.

"It was the medical trust in Indiana, and especially in Terre Haute," said Pettigrew, "which set me to advertising." The case went over till Jan. 11.

To Reimburse the State.

Washington, Dec. 8.—A bill has been passed in the house appropriating $43,000 to reimburse the state of Pennsylvania for militia troops furnished the Union during the civil war.

TO TALK THINGS OVER IN CAUCUS

Indiana Legislators Preparing For Coming Session.

THE POLICY OF THE MAJORITY

Sentiment of Practically All the Democratic State Senators Who Gathered at Indianapolis Today Is That It Will Be Safe to Follow the Leadership of Governor Marshall—Republicans to Meet Next Week.

Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—The Democratic state senators assembled here today in response to a call issued by Lieutenant Governor Hall, and an effort will be made to outline a plan of action and a course for the Democrats to pursue during the coming session of the legislature.

It is said that the sentiment of practically all of the senators is that the platform promises should be carried out as quickly as possible after the session begins, and that whatever program is mapped out should be based on the platform. It is admitted that the Democratic members of the legislature believe they will be perfectly safe in following the leadership of Governor Marshall in the matter of legislation and the redemption of the pledges made by the party.

Republican members of the legislature have been called to meet here on the afternoon of Tuesday, Dec. 13, to talk over their course of action at the coming session. Among other things which will probably be considered at this meeting will be the selection of a floor leader for the Republicans in the house and one in the senate. There is talk that Senator Edgar Durrie of Evansville may be chosen floor leader in the senate, and that Representative Miles J. Furnas of Winchester may be made the house floor leader.

The Republican conference will be held one day previous to the conference of Democratic representatives, which has been called for Wednesday, Dec. 14.

IMPRISONED BRIDE

Absent-Minded Bridegroom Reverts to Bachelor Habits.

Gary, Ind., Dec. 8.—That even a bridegroom can be so forgetful of his wife as to forget that he is married was demonstrated by Clyde Hunter, an attorney, when he unthinkingly locked his young wife in their apartments for twelve hours. Early in the morning Mr. Hunter arose to attend to court matters at Crown Point.

Following his usual custom Hunter locked the door to his apartments and put the key in his pocket. Later when Mrs. Hunter rose and tried to leave her room to go to breakfast she found she was a prisoner. She was unable to attract the attention of the neighbors and was forced to stay hungry in the room for twelve hours until the absent-minded husband's return in the evening, when he found her in tears.

Young Hunter's Pitiable Plight.

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 8.—With part of his skull blown away, Bidwell Craver, aged nineteen, who lives near Fillmore, a small town east of this city, walked and crawled over a mile. He was hunting when his gun was accidentally discharged. Neighbors who followed the trail of blood to the scene of the accident found that he had fallen five times in the snow. He was unconscious when found a few hundred feet from his home. He will probably die.

Deadly Crossing Claims Another.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 8.—A grade crossing of the Lake Shore railroad in this city has claimed another victim in Michael Pinter, aged fourteen. He waited for one train to pass and then walked directly in front of a fast mail running in the opposite direction. The body was ground to pieces. The crossing where the accident occurred is regarded as a death trap, people being killed with alarming regularity.

In Custody at Muskogee.

Brownstown, Ind., Dec. 8.—A message received here says that Governor Haskell of Oklahoma has granted a requisition for the return of Hugh Burrell, the fugitive banker of Brownstown. The prisoner is in custody at Muskogee, where habeas corpus proceedings have been instituted.

Two Boys and a Gun.

Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—In a good-natured contest with rifles, in which each tried to aim as directly at the other as possible without hitting him, Albert Perin, fifteen years old, was shot in the forehead and killed by Jesse Osborn, sixteen years old.

Examine Your Tows.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 8.—The new counterfeit $2 bill has made its appearance in this city and the banks have posted warnings to citizens advising extreme caution in the handling of any bills of this denomination.

The First of the Kind.

Elwood, Ind., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Mary Coppock, the first woman ever arrested here on a blind tiger charge, was found guilty, fined $50 and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Takes Part in Movement Toward Better Roads

The Pennsylvania railroad is taking an active part in the movement tending toward the betterment of roads in Indiana. Through its local agent, J. M. Higgins each of the road supervisors in Shelby county has received a booklet containing much excellent information on the subject that was written by an expert. The company says that millions of tons of freight that are hauled over its lines are moved in wagons either before or after the rail journey.

Naturally this would make the company interested in the improvement of the country roads leading to and from its station, for it is over the highways that this freight is hauled. The booklet sent out by Mr. Wood says among other things that in the winter months thousands of miles of country roads are rendered impassable and farmers are unable to get to and from their railroad stations. Good roads will tend to open up the rural districts and hasten their full development. Good roads will make for prosperity which must be a forerunner of an increased railroad traffic.

Only fifteen states do not assist in any way in the construction of highways, and Indiana is one of them.

The other states build highways at state expense, pay part of the cost when roads are built by counties, furnish engineering aid, provide convict labor, or in other ways assist in the work of providing good roads.

The Indiana Association of Good Roads expects to present to the General Assembly of Indiana in January a bill creating a state highway commission and providing for state aid in the construction roads.

MOTOR-DRIVEN PLOW.

For centuries men have cultivated the soil by means of simple plows pulled by animal force. Inventors of machinery for cultivating the soil always retained the plow form for doing the work, but operated these in gangs in order to facilitate the work. Plows either single or in gangs require great power to pull them through the soil.

A Swiss inventor has brought out a motor-driven plow on new lines and embodying radically different ideas. The secret of the success of this machine lies in the fact that the machine problem of mechanical laboring is met on the principal of replacing the plow by the hoe.

Men used the hoe long before they learned to employ animal force for pulling their plows, and at all times farmers who wanted to work the field specially well, returned to the use of the hoe.

The plow consists of a drum on which hoes for various purposes are fastened, and a strip of great breadth to any desired depth can be hoed with the minimum of energy.

AT SIXTEEN.

"There is a strange characteristic very strongly marked in the girl of sixteen—strange because it is a kind of hallucinations for which there is absolutely no foundation. She is under the impression that she is experiencing feelings and emotions never experienced by any one before; that what she thinks is unique, what she feels and does unique—her ambitions, hopes, aspirations, all unique. She imagines that her mother, hopelessly without the magical ring, is an alien of the worst type."

So writes Mrs Burton Chance in an article entitled "Your Daughter" in the Christmas Delineator. Later she adds:

"The mother understands quite well all that is going on. She knows that the rampant emotions, fancied importance and but half-subdued energies in her child must all be toned down by endless knocks and disappointments before they consent to be driven in harness and thereby reach their true proportions. She knows that upon this very exuberance, this enthusiasm, this strange hallucination itself, will grow all that will make her child a woman of strength and personal vigor and her maturity."

MAY LOSE CENTER.

He bases his theory on the increased population in the northwest and the movements of the center in the past.

Tassels are utilized in all sorts of original styles in the decoration of the winter frocks and coats for children.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

HAVE "RATLESS" DAY.

(Columbus Republican.)

The girl pupils of the Hope high school have a day set apart, and it seems that the day is to be set apart each year, for it was set apart for the first time last year and again it was observed one day last week. The day is known as "ratless" day, and on that day the girls of the high school discard their hair rats and go to school with their golden hair, or any other old color, hanging down their backs.

Just what significance the day has for the girls has not been made clear, unless it is perhaps that they just feel that they must take a day off from the burdensome hair rats. At any rate ratless day has doubtless come to stay in the Hope high school and no doubt one day of each school year will henceforth be observed in the school when no hair rats will be worn by the girl pupils.

TAMES WILD GEESSE.

(Columbus Republican.)

When is a wild goose not a wild goose?

The answer is, when it is a tame wild goose.

Perhaps you think a goose cannot be wild and tame at the same time, but this very thing is proven on the farm of George Muck, of Hope. He has tame-wild geese and tame wild-ducks as well.

Mr. Muck caught two wild geese that flew into his chicken yard during the migration period. They were evidently tired, and as he raises barred rock chickens and had a plentiful supply of them on hand the wild geese stopped to pay a visit. After the wild geese were caught their wings were clipped and they found themselves prisoners in the chicken yard.

The geese emitted their squawking call at intervals and in time attracted other wild geese. Mr. Muck kept the eggs and finally set a hen on them. He hatched a brood of thirty wild geese.

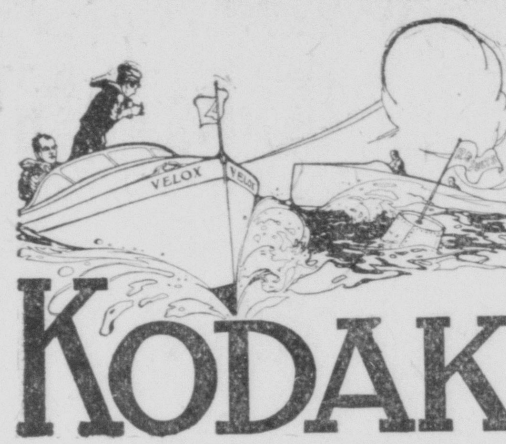

In much the same manner Mr. Muck got a few wild ducks and he now has forty of them. The ducks are prolific layers, but the geese lay but little and Mr. Muck says they will not mate until they are two years old.

The breeding of wild ducks and wild geese has been well started on the Muck farm and he intends to keep at it. He can find a ready sale for both the ducks and geese and the eggs also command a good price.

WATSON VISITS IN WASHINGTON

Dines With Vice-President Sherman During Short Stay While on Way to New York.

TALK OVER LOCAL SITUATION

James E. Watson of this city, former representative from this district was in Washington yesterday, while on his way to New York City on business. Tuesday evening he dined with Speaker Joe Cannon and had lunch yesterday with Vice-President James Sherman at the Capitol building.

"I am on my way to New York," he is reported to have said. "And am stopping off here to shake hands with some of the boys. I don't have a very good line on legislation, but if I were to make a guess I would say the ship subsidy bill will not pass congress this session. I am going from here to New York, but expect to return in a few days, when I may have a talk with President Taft about the Indiana political situation."

CALLS A CONFERENCE.

A letter has been mailed from the Governor's office to officials of Indiana traction companies requesting a conference at the State House December 13. It is proposed that the conference will take up the question of accidents with a view to furnishing material for the Governor's message to the State legislature.

JUST GETTING TO IT.

Richmond Item: An ordinance to prohibit traction engines from using the streets of the city will in all probability be presented to the city council at its next regular meeting. It is not the idea to prohibit every engine from going over the streets, but just those of owners who make a practice of it.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Indiana Horticultural society will hold its annual convention in the State house, Indianapolis, Dec. 7 and 8. Special papers on the diseases of fruits will be read by experts. A handsome silver cup will be awarded the member of the society who exhibits the three best boxes of apples of different varieties.

RED CROSS DESIGN IS DIFFERENT NOW

Christmas Seals Are Much More Novel Than Those Used in Previous Years.

ARE ON SALE IN FORTY STATES

The new Red Cross Seals now on sale are different from the designs of those offered in any other year, and many think it is the best one. The Christmas seals are in form, but a purpose, similar to postage stamps. They are used only as a medium to one person to give "A Merry Christmas" to another, a seal being used on the back of Christmas letters, cards and parcels. They sell at one cent each and the Red Cross uses the proceeds to combat the ravages of tuberculosis over the State. They are on sale in forty States and it is expected that fifty million will be sold providing a fund of $500,000. The Red Cross hopes to raise $12,000 to $15,000 in Indiana through the sale of the seals.

The new design was chosen as the best of 1800 that were submitted by American artists, that of a New York artist being selected. It shows conspicuously a bright red cross set in the center of a green holly wreath. Around the edges are the words, "American Red Cross, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year."

The new seals may be obtained at many business houses and are being sold under the direction of the Tri Kappas.

The concert given by the orchestra of the Main Street Christian church Bible school last night was well attended. The orchestra under the leadership of Harry Lucas, rendered a very pleasing program. The reading by Miss Gladys Tittsworth was well received.

The Star Grand offers a Vitagraph subject tonight entitled "Clothes Makes the Man." This is a comedy which cannot be classed among the generality of comedies. It is philosophical as well as funny and while you laugh you think there's a heap in it worth thinking about. It's funny what clothes will do. This picture shows what they will do. If you do not believe it see the picture. Earl Robertson will sing "Love Me Again."

The Palace offers for tonight an American Pathe film entitled, "Abraham Lincoln's Clemency." The incidents pictured in this film are founded on fact and relate to William Scott, a young soldier from the State of Vermont. He is found asleep while on guard and is placed under arrest. He is tried by court martial and sentenced to death. President Lincoln saves him after receiving a letter from the boy's mother asking for his pardon. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Vaudet will have the same big double program tonight as usual, each film one thousand feet in length. They will show one of the celebrated Imps, "The New Butler." It is said to be an exceedingly good picture with all of the good acting that is the characteristic of Imp pictures. The other picture, a Thanhouser, "Jane Eyre," is a dramatization of the famous English novel by the same name. All readers of English fiction are familiar with the novel by that name and need no synopsis of the story. It is extremely interesting and at the same time pathetic. It is a story of a small girl who is left an orphan, raised by a rich uncle and sent into the world. A new illustrated song is on the program.

SOUGHT TO OPEN UP A STREET

The decision of the United States supreme court in the Connersville C. H. & D. suit will have an effect not only in Connersville, but in all Indiana towns and cities where like improvements are to be made, wherein the railroads are involved. Connersville sought to open a street, but was prevented by a railroad embankment. The railroad refused to grant any consideration to the proposition.

The United States supreme court comes along, upholding the decision rendered by the late Judge Morris, who held that the railroad was amenable to the powers of the town or city granting the franchise and that it must bear its share of the cost of public improvement.

MANY HOOSIER EXHIBITORS.

That Indiana is a center for pedigree poultry is shown by the fact that at the show of the Great Mid-West Poultry and Pet Stock Association in Chicago December 8 to 14, there will be forty-five exhibitors from this State, the total number being about three hundred and fifty. Exhibits will be shown from twenty-seven States, two Canadian provinces and even one from Belgium.

"AS GOOD IN QUALITY, LESS IN PRICE"

CHAPTER XXII.

BUT at the doorstep of the Methodist church Nat hesitated. The building was dimly lighted, for it was choir practice night, and the door was ajar, but he couldn't bring himself to enter.

Raving and ranting with the extravagance of youth, he passed through the village, out into the open country, and, in the course of an hour and a half, back, all blindly, circling back to the store, in the course of his wanderings, as instinctively as a carrier pigeon shapes its course for home.

It was with incredulity that he found himself again in that cheerful, cherished, homely place. But there he was when he came out of his abstraction—there in those familiar surroundings, with Tracey's round red face beaming at him over the cigar stand like a lively counterfeit of the round red moon he had watched lift up into the skies, back there in the still countryside, just as he paused to turn back to town.

He recollected his faculties and resumed command of himself sufficiently to acknowledge Tracey's greeting with a moody word.

"All right, Tracey," he said abruptly. "You may go now. I'll shut up the store."

He looked at his watch and was surprised to discover that it was no later than half past 8. He seemed to have lived a lifetime in the last few hours.

"Thank you, sir," said Tracey, with a gush of gratitude. "I'll be glad to get off. Angie's waitin'."

"Angie?"

"Good evening, Mr. Duncan."

"Oh, Miss Tuthill!" Nat discovered that little rogue, all smiles and dimples and blushes, not distant from his elbow. "I didn't see you—I was thinking."

"Guess we know what you was thinkin' about," observed Tracey, bringing his hat round the counter. "Everybody in town's talkin' about it."

"About what?"

"Ah, you know about what, and we're mighty glad of it, and we want to congratulate you, don't we, Angie?"

"Oh, yes, indeed, Mr. Duncan. It's just too sweet for anything."

"O Lord!" groaned Nat.

"I'm awful glad you done it when you did," pursued Tracey, oblivious to Nat in his own ecstatic temper. "I guess I wouldn't never 've got up the spunk to—till Angie what I did to-night 'f it hadn't been we was talkin' 'bout your engagement to Josie. Then, somehow, it just seemed to bust right out of me, like I couldn't hold it no longer. Didn't it, Angie?"

"Oh, Tracey, how can you talk so?"

"Then you're engaged, too?" Nat inquired, rousing himself a little and smiling feebly upon them.

"Yes, sir."

"I'm glad to hear it. It's great news. Now, run along, both of you, and don't forget you'll never be so happy again." With what he thought an expiring

"IT'S JUST TOO SWEET FOR ANYTHING."

dash of humor he raised his hands above their heads. "Bless you, my children!" he said solemnly. "Now, for heaven's sake, beat it!"

Alone he went to the prescription desk and, opening one of the drawers, took out the firm's books. After that for some fifteen minutes there was nothing to be heard in the store save

STOMACH TROUBLES

Cured by Vinol—Here is Proof.

Seymour, Ind., "I was troubled with a chronic stomach trouble and five weeks ago it got so bad I had to give up work. I had tried various medicines without relief—and was finally induced to try Vinol. After taking the first bottle I was greatly benefited. Am now on the third bottle and ready to resume work. Am rapidly gaining in weight and strength." Edw. Nieman. (We guarantee this testimony to be genuine.)

It is the curative medicinal elements of the cods' livers, combined with the strengthening properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in restoring perfect digestion and at the same time it builds up the tired, overworked and run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson & Co. Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

Nat's breathing and the scratching of his pen as he figured out a trial balance.

Brisk footfalls disturbed him. He sighed and moved out into the store to find Kellogg there, suave and easy, as always, yet with that in his manner, perceptible perhaps only to a friend of long standing like Nat, to betray a mind far from complacent.

"Oh, you're here!" he cried, with a distinct start of relief. "I've been looking all over for you."

"I just got in." Nat brushed aside explanations curtly, intent upon his purpose. "Harry, I've got something to say to you. I'm not going through with this thing."

"You're not?"

"No, and that's final. I was just on the point of drawing you a check for three hundred—that's all my share of the profits of this concern so far—and my note for the balance. I'll pay that up as soon as I'm able, and I'll work like a terrier until I do. But, as for the rest of it, I'm through."

"Oh, you are?" Kellogg took a chair and tipped back, frowning gravely.

"But what about your word to me?"

"There's nothing to that," said Duncan without heat. "The word of honor of a man who'd stoop to a trick as vile as I have doesn't amount to a continental shipplaster. I'll rather be dishonored by breaking it than by ruining a woman's life."

"Very well, if you feel that way about it," said Kellogg as coolly. "And you may keep your check and note; I wouldn't take them. You can pay me back when it's convenient—I don't care when. But what I want to know is what you mean to do."

"I mean to do the only thing left to do. I'm going to shut up here and then see Lockwood and Josie and tell them the whole story."

"Hm!" Kellogg reflected, quizzical. "You've got a pleasant little job ahead of you."

"I don't care about that. I deserve all that's coming to me. I owe Josie a duty. Why, it's awful, Harry, to trick a girl into caring for you and then to—"

"Break her heart?" Kellogg's tone was sardonic.

"That's what I meant."

"Don't flatter yourself, my boy. Josie Lockwood doesn't love you. She just set herself to win you because you're the best chance she's seen." Kellogg laughed quietly. "The system would have worked just as well if any one else had tried it."

"Do you think so—honest?" Nat's eagerness to believe him was undisguised.

"I'm sure of it. The trouble is that people will say you've thrown her over—there isn't any one in Radville who hasn't heard the news by this time—and that's going to make the girl feel pretty cheap, but only for awhile. She'll get over it and solace herself with the next best thing. And don't forget—you lose a fortune."

"No, I don't," Duncan disclaimed. "I never had it, and now I don't want it."

"That's true enough," Kellogg admitted evenly. "And I hope you'll always feel that way about it; but, believe me, you'll find plenty of money a great help if you want to live a happy life."

"There are better things than money to make a man happy. I'll pass up the money and try for the others."

"That's true too. But when did you find it out?"

"Here—this last year. You know I had everything my heart desired until the governor cashed in, and I used to think I was a pretty happy kid in those days. But now I've learned that you can beat that kind of happiness to death. Harry"—Duncan was growing almost sententious—"the real way to be happy is to work and have your work amount to something and—and to have some one who believes in you to work for."

"Is this a sermon, Nat?"

"Call it what you like. It goes, just the same. That's what I've found out this year."

JACK ABERNATHY

Old "Catch-'Em-Alive" Is Out of His Federal Job.

TAKE YOUR OLD JOB, SAID JACK ABERNATHY

Under Fire, "Catch-'Em-Alive" Wrote His Resignation.

Washington, Dec. 8.—"Catch-'Em-Alive" Jack Abernathy, who was appointed United States marshal for the western district of Oklahoma by Mr. Roosevelt in his second administration, is out of Uncle Sam's employ. Charges were recently made against Abernathy and he had come to Washington to answer them. He called at the attorney general's office for that purpose, but found it harder than was the White House in the good old days. Jack cooled his heels in Mr. Wickersham's reception room for about five hours, pacing up and down impatiently and occasionally giving his belt a vigorous tug.

Finally Abernathy's patience became exhausted. He walked out in the reception hall, picked up a slip of paper and wrote his resignation on it. Then he handed it to Mr. Wickersham's secretary with the remark, "I guess that will explain my position." After that he stamped out of the office.

"They can have their job if they want it," declared the champion wolf catcher. "I'm going over to New York to see the colonel."

The ex-marshal added, however, that he would die before he would let the colonel use his influence in his behalf. He said there was nothing in the charges against him. The department has not disclosed the character of these charges, but it is understood they do not refer directly to the administration of his office.

In a running story which has begun in an eastern magazine, Dr. Cook, who is now in London, frankly states that he does not know whether he discovered the north pole, and says that perhaps he made a mistake in thinking that he did.

John and Ralph Horine, aged ten and twelve years respectively, were drowned when thin ice on a pond on which they were skating near Frankfort, broke.

Itch Cured For 10c

A very simple remedy for Eczema Cuban Itch etc., is to ask your druggist for a 10c box of Plex. The first application will be felt beneficial and the continued use, a cure can be expected. GOOD ROADS BETTER THAN PANAMA CANAL

This Is the View Held at Indianapolis Meeting.

Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—The declaration that good roads are more important to the people than the Panama canal, and the good roads question paramount to the tariff, was made at the American good roads congress. The statement divided interest with the definite assurance of the co-operation of the motherhood of America in the fight for better highways.

Samuel Hill, president of the Washington State Good Roads association, and recognized internationally as a highway authority, made the declaration and presented arguments to prove his assertion, while the assurance of the active support of the women came in a letter to the congress from Mrs. Frank DeGarmo of St. Louis, chairman of the department of the national congress of mothers, known as the "good roads for child welfare department."

Both Mr. Hill and Mrs. DeGarmo were the recipients of such demonstrative receptions that there could be no question of the attitude of the delegates toward both.

The banks of the Republic of Panama have 3,000,000 deposits and $2,000,000 loans. The 2 to 3 per cent, a month rates for loans have come down to 7 to 9 per cent, per annum. The republic has 228 public schools with 14,305 pupils and 396 teachers.

A GLOBE TROTTER

Young Hoosier's 10,000-Mile Jaunt Checked at Lafayette.

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 8.—After ten months' of continual wandering in many different parts of the United States and Mexico, covering 10,000 miles in all, Edward Meyer of Indianapolis, a fugitive from the boys' reform school at Plainfield, was captured here by the police and will be returned to the Plainfield institution. Young Meyer is bright and shrewd and says that all the time he has been a fugitive he has been "on the square."

To Encourage Outdoor Sleeping. Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 8.—The charity society which will spend the money received as its share from the sale of Red Cross stamps has decided to fight tuberculosis by building shacks in the yards of afflicted persons. By this method a man who cannot afford to leave his work may have the fresh air treatment by sleeping outdoors at his home.

Talked It Over With Coroner.

Danville, Ill., Dec. 8.—Pearl Freeman, aged twenty-six, a farmer living near this city, committed suicide by drinking poison. He leaves a widow and three children. Freeman rode into the city with the coroner of the county, and during the trip they discussed suicide. Despondency is supposed to have been the cause.

Frank Mantell of Pawtucket, R. I., who has middleweight championship aspirations, subjected Sailor Burke to a thorough beating in a ten-round bout at New York.

According to an unofficial estimate the population of the United States will approximate 91,000,000. The official total will be announced on or about Dec. 10.

FALLING HAIR

Easy to Stop it and Make it Lustrous and Beautiful.

If your hair is falling out; if you have dull, unattractive hair, or if you need a daily hair dressing, read what Mrs. Hettie Hodgman of Nelsonville, Erie county, Ohio, writes June 3, 1910, about Parisian Sage:

"I used Parisian Sage for falling hair and find it the finest thing I ever heard of. My hair was falling out by combs full, and I could run my fingers through it and they would hang full of loose hair. I washed my hair and got a bottle of Parisian Sage and used two applications and I could see a great difference. My hair was lustrous and nice and had almost stopped falling out, and by the use of one more bottle it stopped altogether."

For women, for men or for children Parisian Sage is without any doubt the finest preparation for the hair. It is guaranteed by Johnson's drug store to stop hair from falling; to eradicate dandruff and stop itching scalp in two weeks, or money back. It is a most daintily perfumed and refreshing hair dressing, free from grease or stickiness, and ought to be in every home where every member of the family could use it daily. Large bottle 50 cents at Johnson's drug store and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

A CLEAR BILL FOR BALLINGER

Secretary of Interior Cleared By Majority Report.

FIGHT OVER THE TWO REPORTS

The Minority Members of the Congressional Committee Having Recently Condemned Ballinger Without Reservation, Declare Theirs Is the Real Report and Will Resist Confirmation of Report Sustaining Him.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Sustaining his administration of the interior department in every particular, the majority members of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee have absolutely cleared Secretary Ballinger of the charges of misconduct made against him by Gifford Pinchot and others. The majority report, which has just been submitted to congress, is in striking contrast to the report made last September by the minority members, who held that Mr. Ballinger was unfit for office and ought to be dismissed. The fight over the two reports will now be carried into the senate and the house. The minority members of the investigating committee held a meeting and decided to maintain that their report drawn last September is the bona fide report of the committee and the document just submitted by the majority members is without official standing. The minority members will contend that their report was adopted by a majority of the committeemen who attended a meeting regularly called by the chairman in St. Paul last September, and that such is the only "majority report" entitled to consideration by congress.

Several of the Republican members of the committee were absent from the St. Paul meeting and the Republicans who have now submitted their findings held that the Democratic report was "a snap report."

One Republican, Representative Madison of Kansas, an insurgent, joined with the Democrats in the report which they made three months ago condemning Ballinger. With the assistance of Representative Madison the Democrats controlled the St. Paul meeting by a vote of five to four, and when the regular Republicans realized what the Democratic game was, several of them withdrew from the meeting so as to prevent the presence of a quorum.

A special rule will have to be adopted in the house before the fight over the reports can be carried to the floor, but the Democrats believe they will be able to get enough votes to accomplish this. In the senate the question can be brought up without difficulty. Friends of the administration expect to see a bitter contest and perhaps a good deal of mud thrown over the two reports of the committee. They do not expect Gifford Pinchot to take his medicine without stirring up further trouble. The majority report just sent to congress is signed by Senators Nelson of Minnesota, chairman; Flint of California, Sutherland of Utah and Root of New York, and Representatives McCall of Massachusetts, Olmstead of Pennsylvania and Denby of Michigan, all Republicans.

After stating that the evidence presented related in the main to charges of various kinds against Mr. Ballinger, and that these came chiefly from two sources—L. R. Glavis and Gifford Pinchot—the majority announced the following conclusion:

"The evidence has wholly failed to make out a case. Neither any fact proved nor all the facts put together exhibit Mr. Ballinger as being anything but a competent and honorable gentleman, honestly and faithfully performing the duties of his high office with an eye single to the public interest."

First He Had Heard of It.
 Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—Stokes Jackson, Democratic state chairman, says that he has received a letter from one of the Indiana congressmen at Washington, informing him that the Democratic congressmen from this state will endeavor to have Jackson appointed sergeant-at-arms of the house at the next session of congress. The position pays $6,500 a year. "That was the first I had heard that I was being considered for the place," said Jackson, "but I believe I would like it first rate."

Redmond Beaten by O'Brien.
 London, Dec. 8.—One of the most interesting and highly important election announcements was the result of the polling in Cork city. William O'Brien and Maurice Healy, independent Nationalists, were elected by a combined majority of 1,164 over William Redmond and Augustine Roche.

Swindled Cloak Manufacturers.
 Logansport, Ind., Dec. 8.—The police are looking for an unknown man who used the name of a local dry goods firm and swindled New York and Liverpool (O.) cloak manufacturers out of $450. Worthless checks were given.

Run Down by Switch Engine.
 Logansport, Ind., Dec. 8.—While repairing a switch Jacob Bauer, aged sixty-five and married, was killed. Bauer stepped out of the way of a passenger train and was run down by a switch engine on another track.

Use TIZ—Smaller Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Everyone who is troubled with sore, sweaty, or tender feet—swollen feet—smelly feet, corns, calluses or bunions can quickly make their feet well now. Here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy—it's called TIZ. TIZ makes sore feet well and swollen feet are quickly reduced to their natural size. Thousands of ladies have been able to wear shoes a full size smaller with perfect comfort.

It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 25 cents per box or direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

MAJOR PEYTON
 Superintendent of Indiana Reformatory Says Nothing.

GENERAL CONDEMNATION

Labor System in Force in Indiana State Prison Denounced by Unions.

Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—In the report of the special committee of the State Federation of Labor, which recently visited the prison and reformatory for the purpose of making recommendations to the federation concerning convict labor, a general condemnation of the prison labor system in force in the state prison and the state reformatory is expressed. A copy of the report has been placed in the hands of the governor by O. P. Smith of Logansport, chairman of the committee, through President Hughes of the federation. The governor will go over it carefully before making any recommendations to the general assembly on the subject concerned.

He Has Nothing to Say.
 Jeffersonville, Ind., Dec. 8.—Though apparently incensed at the publication of statements concerning the Indiana reformatory, made by a Terre Haute labor leader on labor conditions at the reformatory, Major David C. Peyton, superintendent of the reformatory, when his attention was called to the story, refused to make any comment for publication. It is the general superintendent's policy to keep out of newspaper controversy.

ROOSEVELT TO MAKE PUBLIC RETRACTION

Truce Being Arranged Between The Colonel and Baldwin.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 8.—It is announced by one who is familiar with the truce plan, that Colonel Roosevelt is preparing to make a public retraction of the charges that Judge Baldwin was retrogressive as a jurist. But there is a hitch over the wording of the last sentence or two in the proposed public retraction. If that hitch can be adjusted to the satisfaction of the two men it is likely that Judge Baldwin will attend the chamber of commerce dinner and there will be no necessity for him to get after Roosevelt in the courts in a suit for slander. It is stated that Colonel Isaac M. Ullman, president of the chamber of commerce, is officiating as general peace envoy between Roosevelt and Baldwin. He is very anxious that the colonel and the governor-elect shall break bread in a peaceful union at the banquet.

Governor-elect Baldwin was requested to prepare a retraction that would suit him, and this was to be submitted to Colonel Roosevelt for approval or disapproval. Judge Baldwin wrote out a retraction and turned it over to Colonel Ullman, who turned it over in due time to Colonel Roosevelt. The document was all right except in the last sentence or two, which contained substantially a statement to the effect that Colonel Roosevelt, if he cared to, could have very easily ascertained all the information needed to set him right before he made the charge against Baldwin in that Concord address. Roosevelt did not like the wording of those sentences and the document was returned to Ullman for reference. There is where the matter stands today.

Great Strike Demonstration.
 Chicago, Dec. 8.—Fifty thousand garment workers and their sympathizers marched in the largest strike demonstration made in Chicago since the teamsters' and freight handlers' strike five years ago. Banners bearing in nine languages the slogans, "We want the union label" and "Give us a square deal," were permitted by the police after they had been translated by a censor.

Doctor Held to Answer.
 Rockville, Ind., Dec. 8.—Dr. H. C. Rogers, an old and well-known physician, was arrested here on a criminal charge connected with the death of Miss Daisy Clark, a young woman living at Jackson. Dr. Rogers furnished bond of $2,000 for his appearance before the circuit court.

CUT SECTION MEN'S TIME

Pennsylvania Reduce Day to Nine Hours Instead of Ten.

The Pennsylvania railroad has made a slight reduction of the working time of the section men here. Hereafter the men will work only nine hours instead of ten. This will cut down their pay some as they are paid by the hour. There seems to be no disagreement with the plan here. Rushville section men are rather glad to get the rest. This is according to custom, which is done each winter. It gets dark so soon that the men can not work ten hours.
